Transport Ship Explodes

FIVE TRAPPED IN CABIN

Of Wreckage.

The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 11—A giant twin-engine plane—one of its engines hung suspended from the fuselage—was all that remained of a transport ship that crashed in a field near New York to Chicago, after a flight of 100 miles. The plane was seen by a group of occupants to a farm lot. The plane was seen by a group of occupants to a farm lot. The plane was seen by a group of occupants to a farm lot.

Two Found Later
The other two bodies were found later. They had either been thrown clear of the wreckage or had been killed as they were about 250 feet from the wreckage. The plane was seen by a group of occupants to a farm lot.

Remains of the air line showed the following were aboard:
O. M. Dwyer, a woman of Arlington, Mass.; E. Smith of Chicago; C. F. F. Schoendorf of Chicago; H. R. Tarrant of Oak Park, Ill.; A. T. Ruby of Chicago; C. Warren F. Burris of Columbus, O.; radio operator, Miss Ann Scribner of Chicago, stewardess.

Considerable confusion developed in identification of the Dwyer man, but a family by that name lived in Arlington said today Mrs. Dwyer had left New York for Chicago yesterday by plane.

Wreckage Scattered
Due to the complete break-up of the plane and the wide area over which the wreckage was strewn attempts to discover the cause of the crash probably will be difficult.

The scene of the crash was a wooded patch on the farm of James Smiley in the Indiana state prison, within a few feet of a road. The explosion brought down the plane and scattered the wreckage and many of them saw the plane hurtle earthward with human cargo.

Miss Esther Stroup, a teacher, said at the Smiley farm, said the plane was followed by a flash in the sky. She estimated the ship was about 1,000 feet up at the time and she said she could hear the roaring of the motor as it fell. She said she saw the plane hurtle earthward with human cargo.

WAR ON WHEAT BOOTLEGGING

Illegal Milling To Escape New Processing Tax Is Reported.

GROWERS ARE VIOLATORS

Departments Prepare To Prevent Serious Inroads on Receipts.

(Copyright by The Associated Press, 1933)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—A new form of bootlegging—illegal wheat milling to escape the processing tax on the grain—has grown to such proportions that a determined drive to end it is planned by federal authorities.

Collection of the 30 cents a bushel tax on wheat and enforcement of regulations surrounding the levy are the immediate problem of the internal revenue bureau.

The farm adjustment administration is vitally concerned, however, because the proceeds from the processing tax are depended upon to raise funds to pay farmers who agree to reduce their acreage 15 per cent next year.

Growers Violators
The chief violators of the law are growers, whom the processing tax was designed to help.

The wheat farmer was given the privilege of having wheat for his own family use ground into flour tax free. The charge has been made and repeated from virtually every wheat growing section, that some farmers are having more wheat ground than they need and disposing of the excess, tax-free flour at a profit.

Custom millers in some sections are reported to be accepting the farmers' estimates without question. The growers are required by internal revenue regulations to make an affidavit that the custom ground wheat is for their own use and also that it was grown on their land.

Protest has been made, however, that in some instances commercial truck drivers are signing affidavits and are receiving the flour for disposition.

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR COLUMBUS DAY

Columbus day, Thursday, will be marked in Marion by the closing of county offices, banks and building and loan companies. No public meeting or demonstration has been planned.

POWER TO END STRIKES MAY BE SOUGHT BY U. S.

Drive To Start Thursday AIMEE MEETS JESSIE
for Utility Survey Funds

Citizens Committee Will Make Public Appeal for $1,600; To Make Final Plans Tonight.

Announcement that a canvass of Marion will start Thursday in an effort to raise $1,600 to finance a survey relative to municipal ownership of water works and electric light and power plant here was made last night following an address in the Central Junior High school by Carl D. Thompson of Chicago, secretary of the Public Ownership League of America. J. W. Jacoby, secretary of the Citizens' Utility committee, here said that a public meeting will be held in his office on East Center street tonight at 7:30 to make final plans for the campaign.

He appealed to the audience to support the movement in view of the fact that it is a civic duty, members of the committee have labored for months without pay and it is now the duty of the citizens to help.

Must Act Quickly
The survey must be completed and an application filed into the federal government before Jan. 1 in order to place in the federal public works program to build the plants, Mr. Jacoby said. Sixty days after the survey is started sufficient information could be obtained to determine if the projects would be self-sustaining.

Mr. Jacoby said the survey also would show what rates would be possible through public ownership, he said. While the drive will not start until Thursday, some preliminary work has already been made. M. J. Bush of 254 Orchard street, heads the list of donors, committee members said today.

Thompson's talk dealt with the question, Why should Marion own its water and light and power utilities?

In answer, he cited the experience of 7,833 cities in this country which own water works and 2,108 cities which own light and power utilities. He told of instances where rates had been reduced from as much as 20 cents a kilowatt hour for electric current to five cents, through public ownership.

Public ownership, Mr. Thompson said, is in line with American experience and municipal progress. Public health demands it, since it is too precious to trust to private enterprise to make private profit out of, he said. Economy, comfort and convenience are other factors to be considered in municipal ownership, he said.

The city that lent in line with the march toward public ownership is a backward community, Mr. Thompson declared. Most of those

STRIKES HIT NEW SECTIONS

Efforts To Settle Labor Disputes Fail To Bring Results.

DEATH TOLL INCREASES

Three Killed in California; Many Hurt in Buffalo Rioting.

Strikes—cotton pickers, miners, longshoremen, mechanics, school teachers—bullets—bombs—hand-daggers—

Conferees struggling unsuccessfully throughout the night to end the strike of 70,000 silk workers in the New York area—police and military, with guns and tear bombs, patrolling troubled sections in West Virginia and Indiana—police charging into rioters at Buffalo. These were sections of the strike situation today.

Some of the violence, epitomized by Bakersfield, Calif.—Three were killed in clashes between striking and non-striking cotton pickers in this territory.

Seranton, Pa.—Dynamite exploded on school porch where earlier yesterday pickets and state troopers fought.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Eleven go to hospital following midnight conflict between pickets and Republic Steel Corp. police.

Two women whose features are familiar to newspaper readers all over the country got together for a chat at Philadelphia. They are Aimee Semple McPherson, noted evangelist and vaudeville star (left), and Mrs. Jessie Castello, known as the "Smiling Widow," who was recently acquitted of a husband-slashing charge. They are planning to conduct a welfare campaign on the Pacific coast. (International News photo).

DISPUTE OVER WORK RESULTS IN ULTIMATUM

Administration May Ask Congress for Authority To Settle Differences.

UNIONS AT LOGGERHEADS

Carpenters and Metal Workers Quit Jobs Over Internal Difficulties.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11—Power to step in and end labor disputes may be asked of congress by the administration unless organized workers settle their own internal discussions and arbitrate before striking.

Such an ultimatum has been delivered to two unions, carpenters and ironworkers, which have halted construction work on the justice department building in the capital with an argument over which should install radiator enclosures.

"I have told labor," said Edward F. McQuinn, assistant secretary of labor, "that unless the unions settle that dispute between themselves, and settle it quickly, we will go to congress and ask for power for the government to make the decision in cases involving federal buildings."

"That, of course, would constitute a precedent for the government later in asking the power to handle all such cases, whether they involve government buildings or not, so long as it disrupts business generally."

Offers To Pay Both
In the local case, McGraw added, the contractor had offered to pay both carpenters and ironworkers and let one crew stand idle and watch while the other puts in the radiator enclosures.

"His object," McGraw said, "is to finish the job in contract time. Yet the dispute is holding up the building and absolutely stopping payroll amounting to thousands of dollars. Somebody should listen to reason."

A hint of administration dissatisfaction at continuing labor unrest was given to the American Federation of Labor convention last night by Hugh H. Johnson, industrial administrator.

Quoting Dr. Alexander Sachs, NIRA economist, as saying there were now fewer strikes than in any other recovery in history, Johnson added:

"Labor does not need to strike under the Roosevelt plan. From the beginning to the end you are given a complete and highly effective protection of your rights. The plain stark truth is that you cannot tolerate the strike."

"Public opinion is the essential power in this country. In the end it will have a decisive influence."

"If now, when the whole power of this government and its people are being given in an effort to provide and maintain to the ultimate the rights of every man who works for pay, you countenance this economic sabotage that public confidence and opinion will turn against you."

Encouraging the strike troubles in the coal industry, Johnson said a majority of miners using violence and force in defiance of the public peace is hampering the responsible leadership of the United Mine workers and preventing its compliance with its contract.

"Does any one suppose for a moment that in a democratic country like this, to pervert any group and hold up the progress of the President's plan (which has become the people's plan) in this country?" he asked, as the convention applauded. "I leave the answer to that question with you."

Like other speakers to the convention, Johnson urged that labor present its differences with employers to the national labor board, headed by Senator Robert F. Wagner, of New York.

Former Local Man Leader in Surgery

Dr. Edward I. Salisbury Listed With Prominent Men in Profession.

One of the surgeons attending a clinical meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Chicago this week is Dr. Edward I. Salisbury of Costa Rica, son of Mrs. Anna Salisbury of 324 Park boulevard, and a former Marion resident.

Dr. Salisbury's professional prominence was evidenced yesterday in an International News photograph which appeared in The Star, picturing five of the surgeons attending Dr. Salisbury's Chicago meeting. The five, Dr. Salisbury, Dr. George C. DeSaunders, Dr. J. Miller of New Orleans, Dr. H. B. Whitcomb of England and Dr. Frederick Beasley of New Orleans, were referred to as "five famous surgeons as they met in Chicago at the opening of the clinical meeting of the American College of Surgeons."

Dr. Salisbury's colleagues recognize him as one of the outstanding men of the profession. Today he was to appear in a program which was to be given as a part of the College of Surgeons day observance at a feature of the program.

Graduating from St. Mary's Parochial high school here in 1911, Dr. Salisbury entered Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia. His course there completed, he spent a year as an interne in the government hospital in the Panama Canal Zone and at the end of the year was successful in a civil service examination and remained in the Canal Zone for three and one-half years.

At the opening of the World War he went into the navy as a lieutenant and was assigned to the government hospital at Norfolk, Va., where he stayed until the George Sutton, 13, Struck by Car on Harding Highway East.

George Sutton, 13, of Madison avenue was injured when the bicycle on which he was riding was struck by an automobile near the Lawrence school on Harding Highway east yesterday afternoon. He was taken to his home, complaining of pains in his abdomen where he said a car wheel passed over his body, and in the left side of his chest.

A deputy from the office of Sheriff C. C. Fye, called to the accident, said the boy was taken to his home in Boyd's ambulance. He said O. S. Rice of Caledonia, a driver of the automobile, investigated showed Rice had swerved his car to avoid hitting the bicycle.

Two automobiles driven by H. S. Steinheffer of 440 Pierce street, Galion, and John Wagner of 229 North Grand avenue, were damaged when they skidded on the Prospect road, route 4, last night. The occupants escaped injury. Neither car was able to continue under its own power, and both were brought to the Danmar Road Co. garage for repairs.

"FINAL MEETING" OF DAIRYMEN HELD HERE

Results of Discussion on Uniform Milk Prices Withheld Temporarily.

Marion dairies and Marion dairy farmers met last night in what one producer said was a "final meeting" in an effort to agree on a code of fair competition and uniform prices for the county.

One dairymen this morning reported that without all statements regarding what was done at the meeting until several dairies and dairy farmers who were absent had been reached for their opinions.

If a code, such as will be required by the state milk commission, is agreed on by the dairy executives and dairy farmers, uniform prices, both retail and wholesale, probably will be fixed for the entire county, including the city. It was explained that action taken last night will not be official until about 100 dairies agree.

Homemaker's Question Box

Question—Mrs. [Name] has a pair of grey tweed slacks that have become very thin at the knees. I can't wear the trousers any more. I can't match the trousers for pattern. Is there anything I can do to prevent the trousers from stretching through?

Answer—This is a question that many women ask. The answer is to use a good darn and to use a good size and to use a good material. The wool darning thread and darning cotton comes in a variety of colors. Intended for use on wool, especially of the grey and navy blue. Match the color of the fabric material as nearly as possible. Select a soft firm darning material. Mercantile stores will have an excellent choice.

For a good darning material large enough to extend well past the thin place and make it to the wrong side of the trousers. Working from the inside, sew in the wrong side of the trousers, running stitches as close together as the weave of the cloth and catching through the stay material on the wrong side with every stitch. If the yarn in the underwear is not broken but only worn thin, it may be enough to run in only one new yarn for every two runs in the material. Fasten all threads on the social hour.
